Terms of Use

assayametals.com — public website and Verify a Document service

Version 1.0 · Issued November 10, 2026 · Effective upon publication on assayametals.com

Article 1 — Acceptance and Scope

1.1 By using assayametals.com (the "Site"), a visitor accepts these Terms of Use. Participation in the marketplace requires an Account and is governed by the Platform Participation Terms (Document 02), not by these Terms.

Article 2 — The Site's Content

2.1 The Site publishes live market data, the coded boards, anonymised consummated summaries, and the Standards. Listings are invitations to treat. Nothing on the Site is an offer, investment advice, or a solicitation in any jurisdiction where it would be unlawful.

2.2 The LBMA Gold Price and LBMA Silver Price are administered by ICE Benchmark Administration Limited and shown as published, under licence. Spot prices are supplied by the Company's licensed feed, are indicative of the live market, and may be delayed as the feed's own terms provide; transaction pricing is fixed on the official LBMA print named in each contract.

2.3 Consummated summaries are generalised in period and volume bands by rule and are not a representation of any identifiable transaction.

Article 3 — Verify a Document

3.1 The Verify a Document service compares a submitted fingerprint against anchors on the Integrity Ledger and returns GENUINE (with document type and sealing date) or NOT VERIFIED. The service confirms authenticity only; it displays no content, party, or transaction, and makes no representation about the underlying transaction's validity or performance.

Article 4 — Prohibited Uses

4.1 A visitor shall not: scrape or systematically extract board data; attempt to identify any coded participant, by any means including triangulation with outside information; interfere with the Site's operation or security; or use the Site or the verification service for any unlawful purpose.

Article 5 — Intellectual Property; Links; Availability

5.1 Site content, design and the Assaya marks (including the Assaya logo) are the Company's or its licensors'. No right is granted except to view the Site for its intended purposes.

5.2 The Site may link to third-party resources; the Company is not responsible for them. The Company may change or withdraw Site features; live elements are provided without a warranty of uninterrupted availability.

Article 6 — Liability

6.1 To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company excludes liability for loss arising from reliance on indicative market data or from Site unavailability. Nothing excludes liability for fraud or wilful misconduct.
